

Dances With Words

School, Library, and Writer Presentations by Terri Farley

Dances With Words
PO Box 441
Verdi, NV 89439

What Folks Say—

“Terri’s hands-on workshop had the girls engaged, excited and tapping into their amazing creativity!”

-Paula Cady, Program Specialist, Girl Scouts of the Sierra Nevada

“I presented out in Silver Springs the other day, where we were scoring students' practice samples for the upcoming 5th grade writing test. The topic was 'Tell the story of a time something special happened at school.' I read at least 15 samples that said your author visit was the most special thing that had happened to them.”

-Corbett Harrison, Regional Professional Development trainer, Washoe County School District, Nevada

"I'm so glad Laura's movie book review of The Phantom Stallion brought Terri Farley to the Seabury Hall campus, for a fun day talking about books and horses -- two of Terri's passions. Aloha!"

-Linda Lindsay, librarian Seabury Middle School, Maui

"I can't even begin to tell you how much we appreciated you coming to DC and how valuable you were in the meetings...We would LOVE to have you again... and again... and again! Your speech at the reception was fantastic. It moved everyone and was so motivating."

- Nancy Perry, Vice President of Government Affairs, Humane Society of the United States

“Terri is an incredible author who inspires tween and teen readers, as well as other writers, all over the world..”

-Lynda Sandoval, YA and adult author, instructor Long Ridge Writers Group, SCBWI mentor, Denver, Colorado.

About the Author

Terri Farley lives in the foothills of the Sierra Nevada mountains with her journalist husband, two children and pets, but still longs for the California beaches where she grew up. She's worked as a waitress, journalist and teacher and now writes full-time, most often barefoot, with a cat on her lap.

She is the author of Seven Tears into the Sea, the Phantom Stallion and Wild Horse Island series for young readers and many nonfiction magazine articles. A fan of hands-on research, Terri's been on round-ups and Pony Express rides, has job-shadowed Hawaiian cowboys and bottle-fed an orphan sea lion. She's an outspoken advocate for wild horses. Terri's sales have topped a million and her books have been nominated for a Quills Award (Moon Rise) and for the ALA's Best Books for Young Adults (Seven Tears into the Sea).

Terri delivers Hearts for Horses letters to Senator Harry Reid

For more information visit PhantomStallion.com and TerriFarley.com

Author Visit Programs

Hooked On Horses: Informal talk filled with stories and audience interaction, this presentation also features "Wild Ones." This original film shows mustangs in the wild, their capture and adoption and features the real Phantom Stallion.

Idea Factory: This creative writing workshop uses left/right brain techniques to supplement the rigors of classroom writing. Small groups and hands-on participation lead to writing confidence with games such as "I See By My Outfit" and "Slug Salad."

Writing the West: Interactive brainstorming and Power Point presentation jump starts students' imaginations and sensitizes them to the settings, characters and conflicts of the West. This workshop is often given with Suzanne Morgan Williams.

Arrange pre-sale of Terri Farley's books and students can attend a lunch time autograph party with free bookmarks & other treats

- Terri Farley is an experienced teacher and presenter. Talk to her about customizing a classroom experience -- remedial to rigorous -- for your curriculum and school climate.

Writers Workshops

Muse on the Run, Finding the 25th Hour to Write: Terri Farley's most popular workshop for adults has been presented at national writers' conferences from New York to Los Angeles. Warning: this one is hands-on and fast-paced. (2 hours – full weekend)

*Making Editors Care
Finding Your Theme*

Rewind: Writing Young Adults and Middle-Grade Novels From Memory.

Behind the Barn Door: Secrets of Writing a Best-Selling Series

Getting Your Hands Dirty: Writing from the outside in.

Terri Farley tailors to your group. Prices for full day, half day, and piggyback visits vary with the presentation. For a quote:

Email: FarleyTerri@aol.com

Subject: DANCES WITH WORDS

Dances With Words

PO Box 441

Verdi, NV 89439

Email: FarleyTerri @aol.com

